Charleston, The Holy City—Our Town

Charleston offers a variety of recreational activities, scenic atmosphere, and colonial charm to the students of the Medical College of South Carolina. Beaches . . . The Battery . . . Sailing . . . Fort Sumter . . . Seafood . . . and don't forget Goose Creek water.

Charleston

The Medical College Expands

Under construction are a new Basic Sciences-Dental School building and Student Activities-Administration-Library building in the area north of the Medical College Hospital. Scheduled to open in early 1970, the seven-story Basic Sciences Dental School building will house teaching facilities for the medical and dental schools and research laboratories and office space for the basic sciences departments.

Professions

Medicine

The School of Medicine has three primary responsibilities—education, research and medical care.

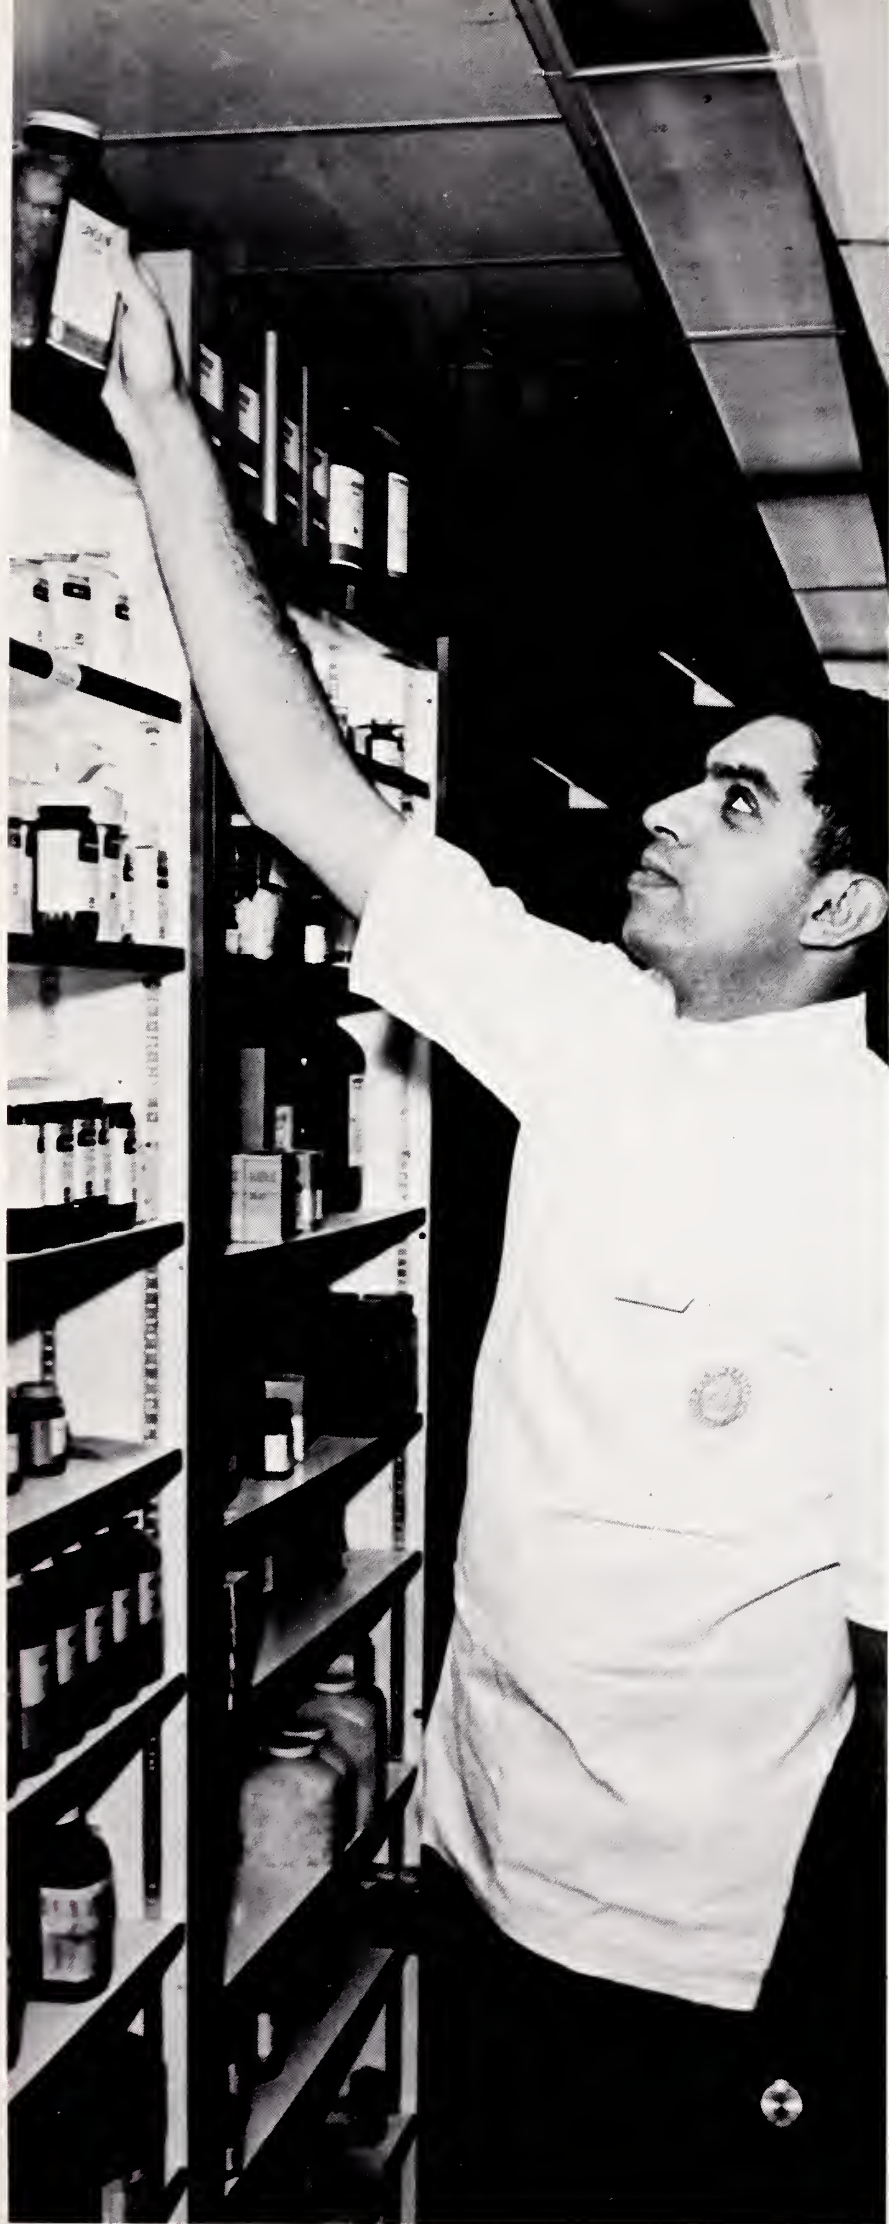

The educational philosophy is planned to give through a suitable faculty-student interface a broad knowledge of the art and science of medicine, proficiency in the essential techniques and methods, and an inquisitive attitude and a sense of responsibility for life-long self instruction and self audit.

Pharmacy

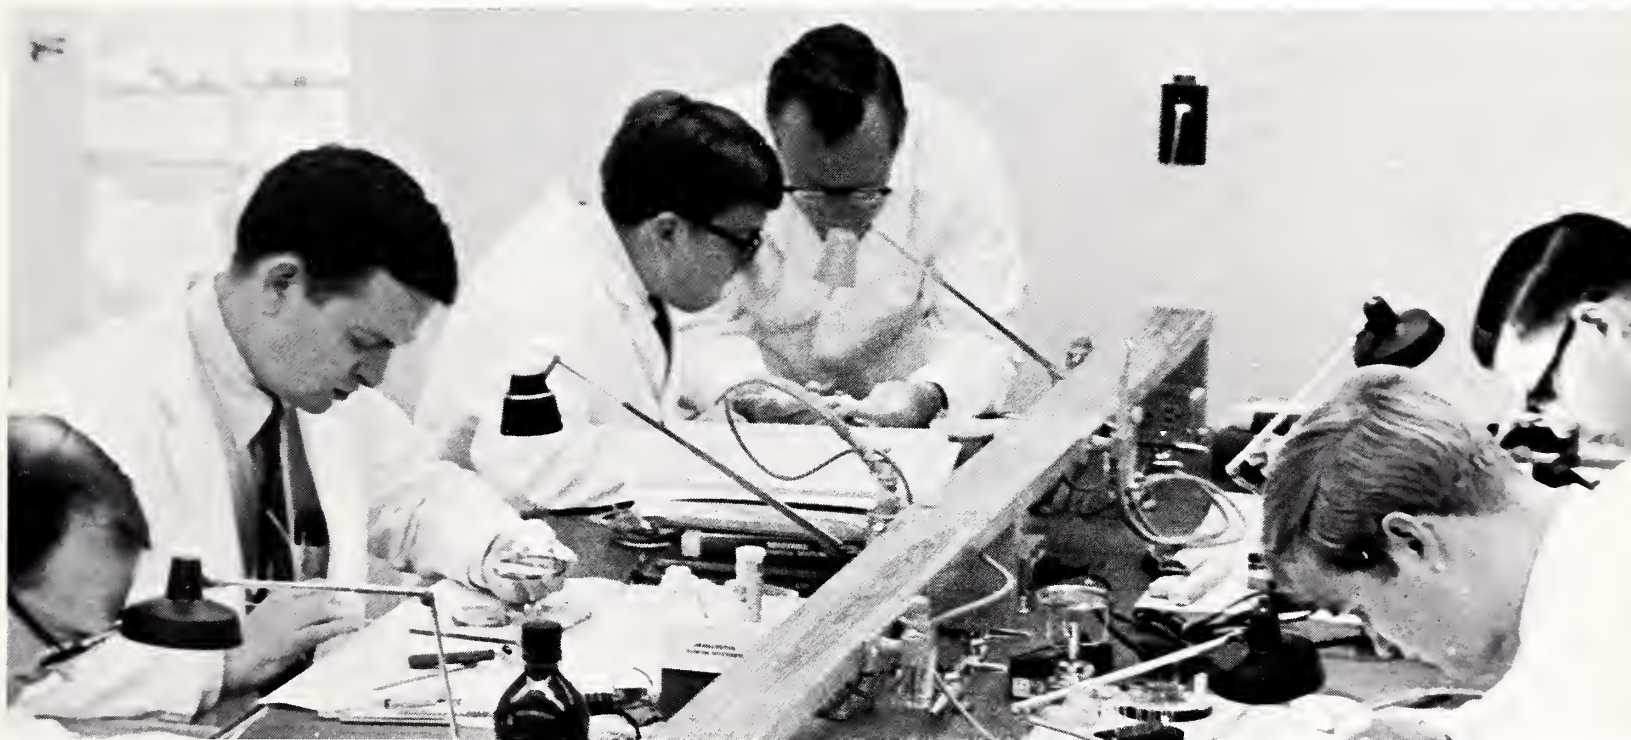

The School of Pharmacy occupies a unique position in being intimately affiliated with the various departments of the School of Medicine. Pharmacy students receive instruction in such courses as biological chemistry, physiology, pharmacology, public health and bacteriology from teachers who have specialized in these respective fields. The correlation of these courses regularly offered in the School of Pharmacy is most valuable, and is made possible only in those schools where both the course in medicine and pharmacy are taught.

Dentistry

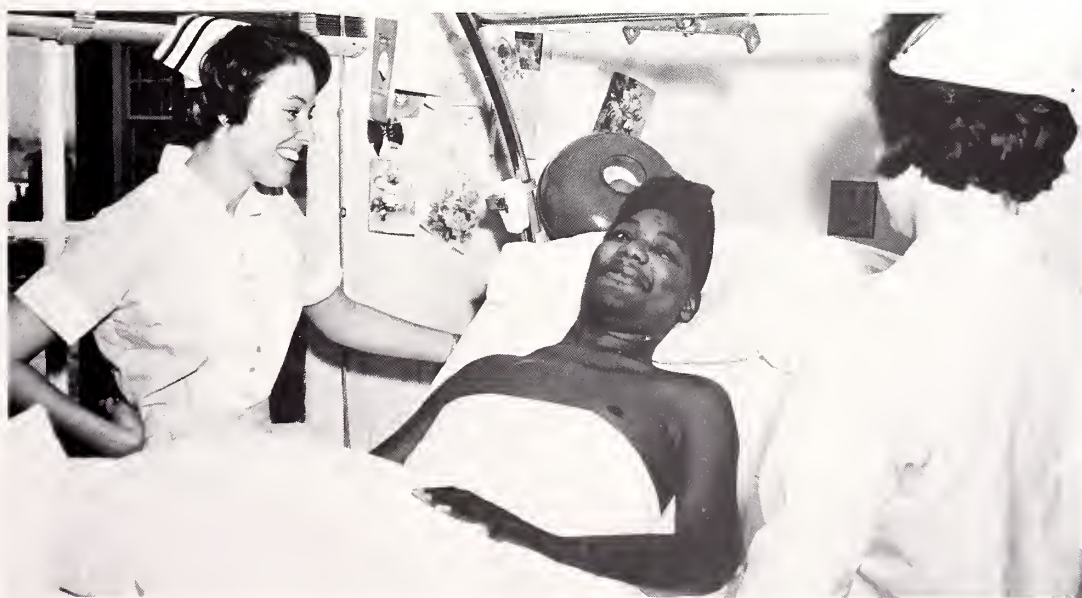

The School of Dentistry regards as its specific commitment and its mission to admit to dental study intellectually and morally qualified students and to prepare them for effective professional and community service in the technological and democratic society into which they will be graduated; to instill in them a sense of vocation, a solid foundation for professional and graduate education of a continuing nature, and the inspiration to pursue new ideas and to seek for new knowledge.

Nursing

As one of the professional schools of the Medical College of South Carolina, the School of Nursing shares the College's aim which is the pursuit of excellence in education, patient care, and research.

The School of Nursing aims to prepare its students as beginning practitioners of nursing in hospitals, homes, or other community agencies where nursing care programs are carried out and to function as useful, constructive citizens in their communities. It further aims to prepare qualified students for admission to graduate programs of study in nursing.

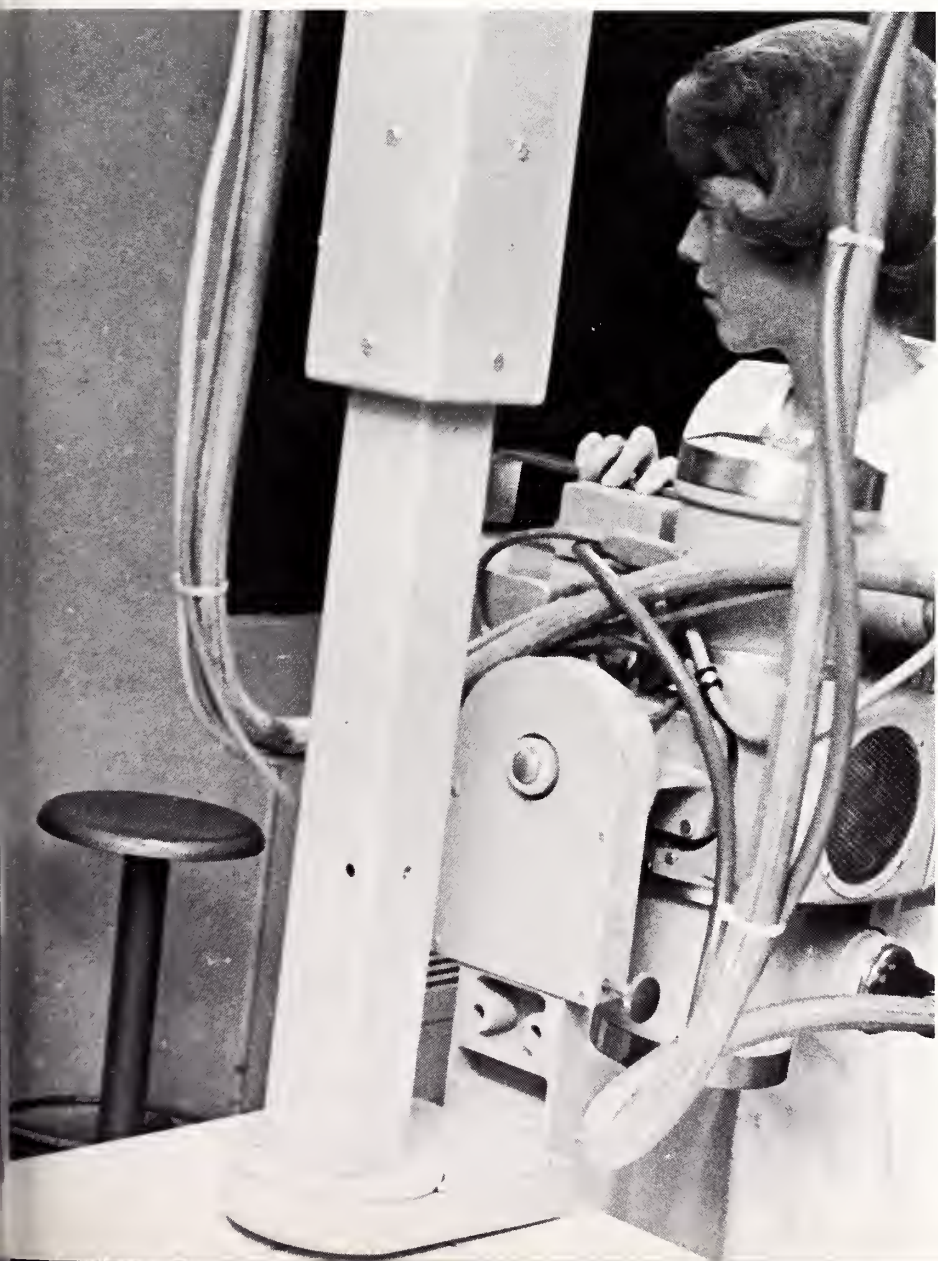

Allied Health

The School of Allied Health Sciences was established in 1966. Included in its programs of study are: Medical Technology, Practical Nursing, Medical Record Administration, Radiologic Technology, Medical Laboratory Assistant, Nurse Anesthetist, Inhalation Therapy, Cytotechnology, Histologic Technology. Entrance requirements and length of study vary with each program. Certificates are awarded for successful completion of courses, and a B.S. degree may be awarded in courses equivalent in length and material to college courses.

Activities

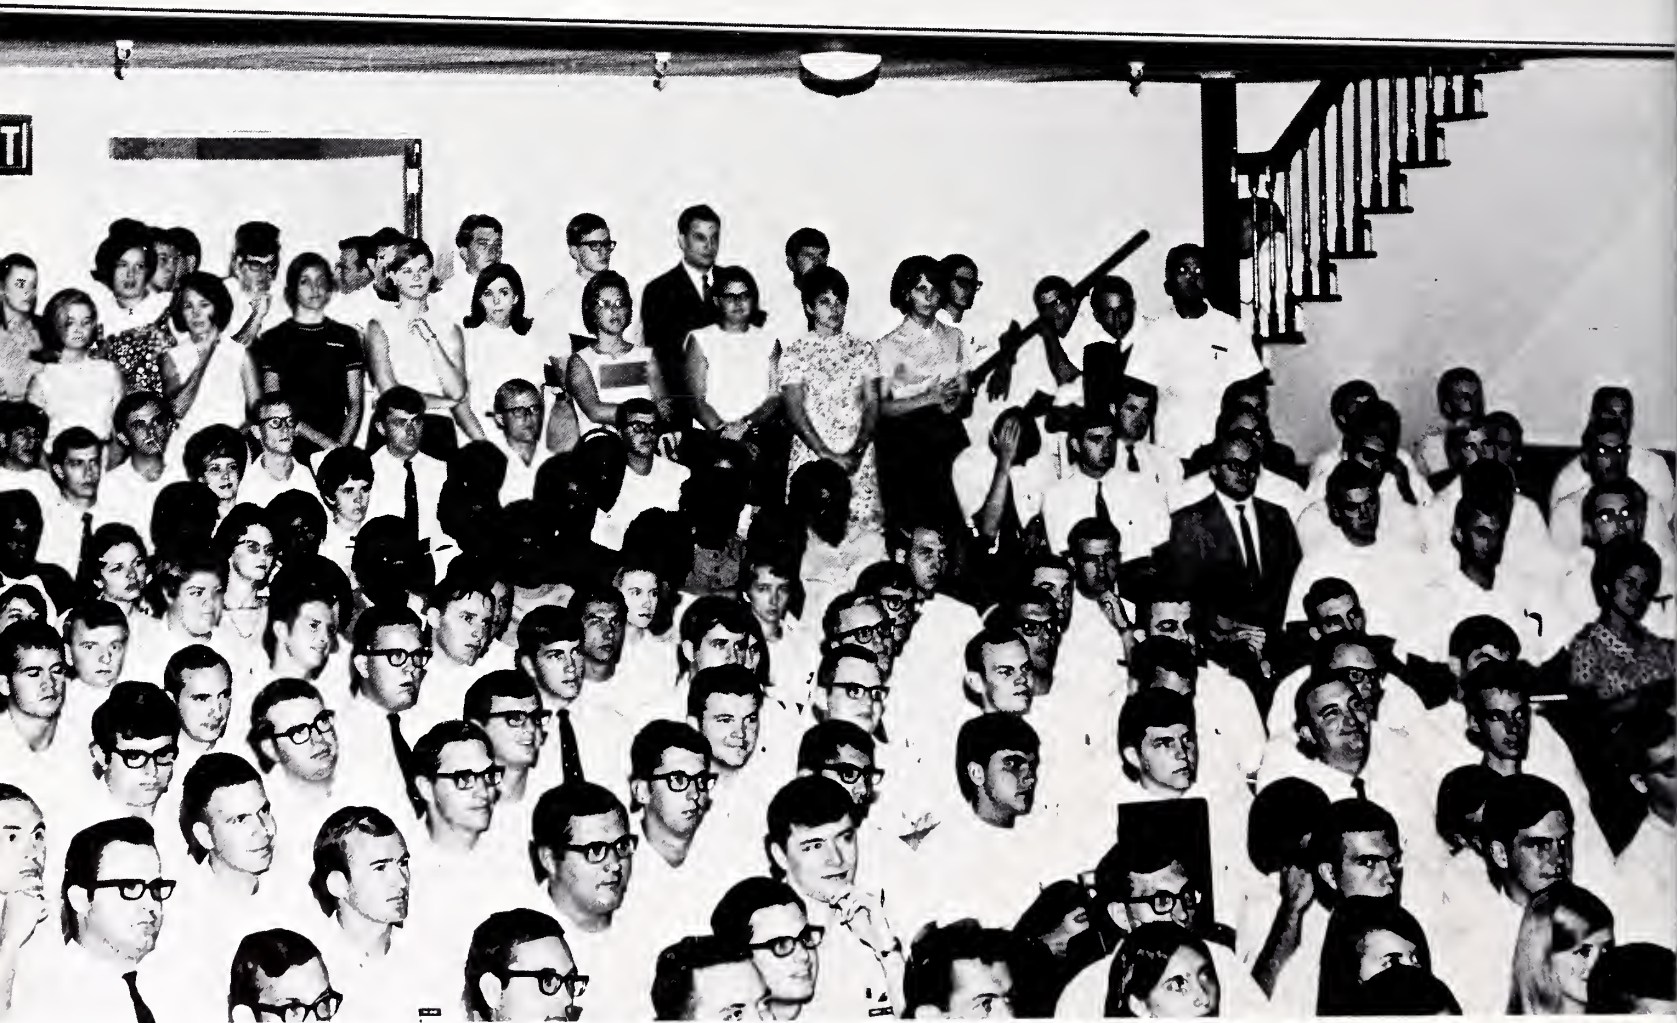

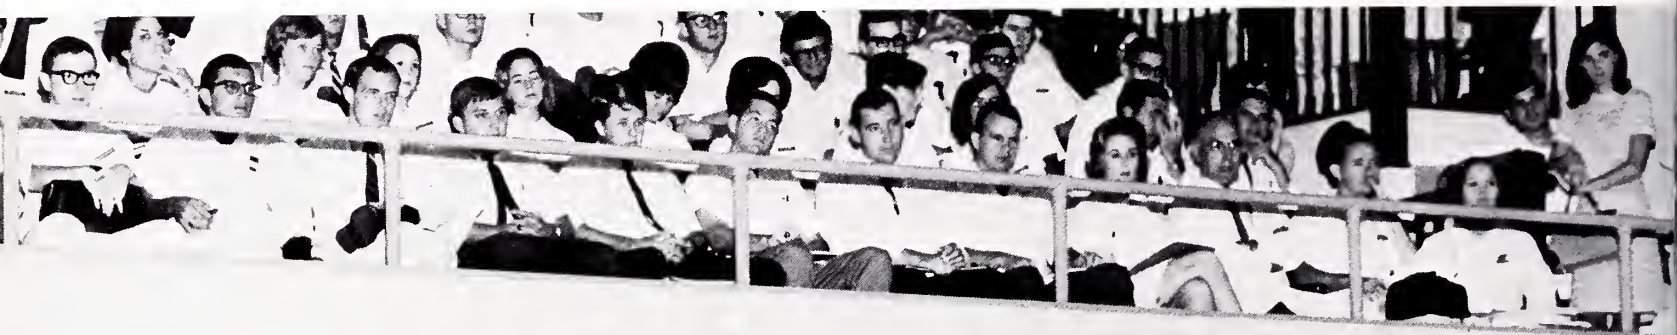

Alhambra '68

May 4, 1968 found MCSC students soaking up sun and suds at Alhambra Hall, Mount Pleasant. Plenty of Fried Chicken ... soft ball ... cold beer ... mini-skirts ... "The Riviera's" ... pie-faced professors ... and more cold beer.

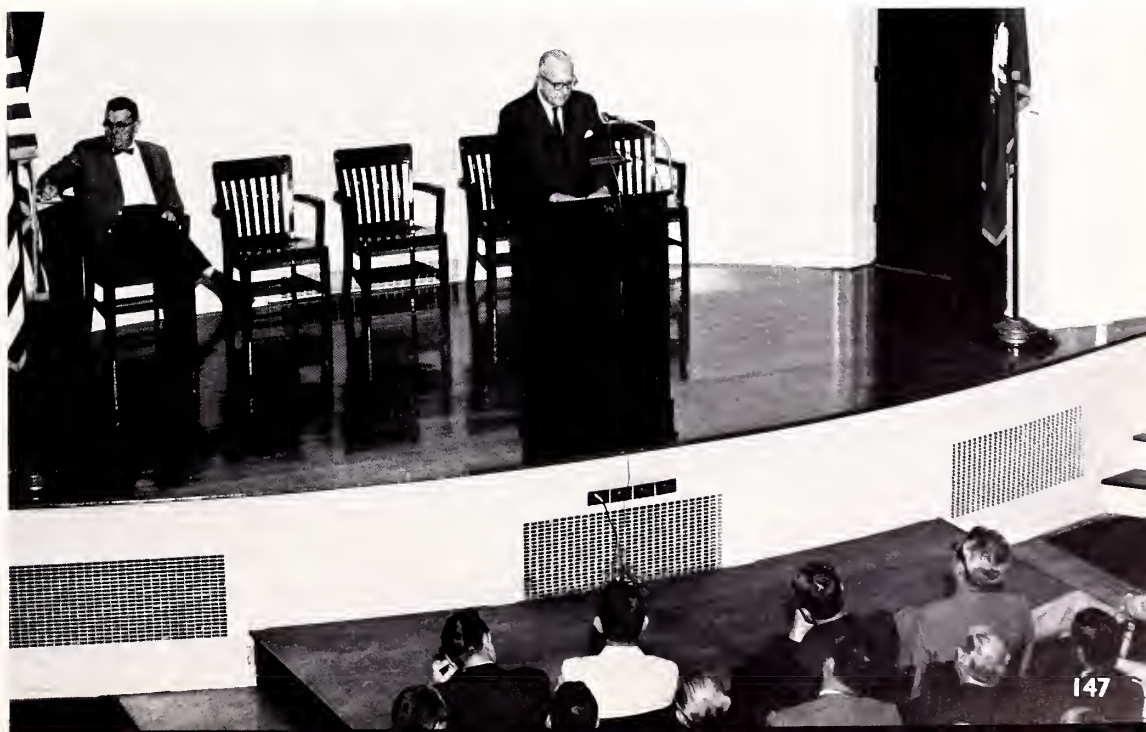

Convocation

Welcome ... to new and returning students. Convocation is the official beginning of the Medical College. The challenge for continuing endeavors in the health professions was presented by the guest speaker, Dr. Joel W. Wyman, President of the South Carolina Medical Association ... and once again, we began a new year of learning.

The Inter-School Christmas Dance 1968 featured "The Swinging Medallions" entertaining in The Gold Room at the Francis Marion Hotel. "Hey Baby" ... Lots of laughs ... "Double Shot" ... Spirits ran high ... Everyone had lots of fun, but I like "Oreo."

Organizations

Virginia McAllister, Chairman

The Interschool Council is composed of students of the Medical College complex. The council serves as a committee representing the students of all schools in planning and coordinating activities in which the entire student body participates. It also works to promote communications between faculty and students. This year the Interschool Council sponsored a back-to-school dance, a Christmas dance, and the traditional Alhambra.

COLUMBIA DENTOFORMS:

An Outstanding Contribution to Dental Education and Practice

FROM a humble start over half a century ago, Columbia Dentoforms have played an increasingly important role in dental education. Today almost every dental student "cuts" his first teeth on Dentoforms, for we supply Dentoforms to every dental college in the U.S. and Canada and to many in other lands.

In these 51 years there have been many improvements and additions to Dentoforms to meet the ever more exacting demands of teachers. Today, Dentoforms number more than a thousand and present conditions the student will encounter in practice. And in graduate years, Dentoforms continue to help in post-graduate education and to help the practitioner in his endless task of patient-education by showing the better dentistry he seeks to give.

Of these 17 high quality Ney micro-grain casting golds, we'd venture a guess that only a few of them are used by any given dentist. So why do we make the others?

We make them all because individual requirements can vary so widely, in desired physical properties, in color preferences, and in economics. We feel that in selecting a Ney casting gold you should have a complete choice, so that you can pick the Ney gold tailor-made to meet your particular preference and requirements. Thus with Ney golds you never have to settle for second-best.

Incidentally, we think you will find one of our complete new physical property charts very handy for reference. Just write us and we'll send you a copy.

*This product appears on The American Dental Association List of Certified Dental Materials.

West Virginia Pulp and Paper changed its name to what people have been calling us for 80 years:

Westvāco

Our old name just didn't fit any more. Because, although papermaking remains a foundation of our business, it's no longer the sole focus. Already we're diversifying into entirely new fields (including consumer products) through both internal growth and acquisition.

We've expanded into disposable tableware for home use. We're testing a new nonwoven fabric for hospital and surgical applications. We're developing and marketing new chemicals to fight air and water pollution. And we're engaged in land development.

Today our company is humming along not only in 22 states of the U. S., but in Europe, Australia, and South America, too. But tomorrow is more than a new day. It's a new environment. And we intend to be an important part of that environment.

New name and all.

W is our new ticker symbol. Westvaco Corporation, Westvaco Building, 299 Park Avenue, New York 10017. Subsidiaries: Clupak, Inc., New York; C. A.
